

Being in pain doesn't have to feel like being out of control.

Know your pain management options
and have a pain management plan.

It starts with one conversation.
Talk to your provider.